SMITH AND HESTER HALED BEFORE CRUTCHFIELD

Mock Trial Proves to Be Principal Event of Business Men's Club Outing.

PICNIC IS GREATLY ENJOYED

Many Interesting Events, Staged by Vigilant Entertainment Committee, Keep Every One in Good Humor.

Members of the Business Men's Club, in their annual outing on James River yesterday, were the guests of Thomas Snyder at Varina Farm, an old-fashioned Brunswick style, followed by field sports. The trip was regarded as in every respect the most successful the club has ever held, an untiring entertainment committee providing for every moment of the time.

The club, with several hundred

IN MEMORIAM

LEDLEY—In loving memory of our dear father, DANIEL A. LEDLEY, who died three years ago, the 5th day of June, 1911.

And to be resigned we are trying, For we know God deemed it best, And thy face so calm and peaceful, Told us thou hast found sweet rest.

Then no more shall pain or sorrow Grieve us, nor aching heart, And in joyous realms we'll linger, Never more we then shall part.

IN MEMORIAM

GILL—In loving remembrance of my dear father, LARKIN M. GILL, who died June 7, 1907, seven years ago TO-DAY.

The midnight stars are beaming Upon the silent grave, Where sleepeth without dreaming The one we could not save.

Heaven retaineth now our treasure, Heaven the lonely casket keeps, And the sunbeams wait to linger Where my dear father sleeps.

guests, including State and city officials, left Richmond at noon on the Old Dominion Steamship Brandon, the run to Varina being made in about two hours.

Out of a multitude of enjoyable "stunts," the star act of the day was that put on by Alvin M. Smith, president of the club, and H. H. Hester, who each acted their parts so well that for some time a large part of the crowd was uncertain whether or no they were in earnest.

Hester attempted to open up a stand for selling novelties, with a special twist having done credit to a Coney Island Barker. Smith protested against selling anything on the trip. Words followed, each one appearing to become more and more heated. Bystanders gathered around to witness the expected fight when Police Sergeant Zimmerman and Police Officer Dugan carried both men before Justice John J. Crutchfield.

Both were charged with creating a disturbance. Attorney General John Garland Pollard appeared for the prosecution and George E. Wise for the defense. Justice Crutchfield invited Judge A. A. Campbell, of Wytheville, now sitting in the annexation case, and Judge William F. Rhea, of the State Corporation Commission, to sit with him, and the mock trial proceeded with great form and ceremony.

WISE QUESTIONS JURISDICTION OF COURT

Mr. Wise heartily cheered the court by raising the point of lack of jurisdiction, claiming that Justice Crutchfield could not try men for crimes committed on the high seas, and that,

Funeral from St. Mary's Church at 3:30 P. M. MONDAY, June 8, 1914.

Father Edward. Rev. Father Edward, better known as Father Edward, pastor of St. Mary's Catholic Church, died yesterday afternoon at 1:15 o'clock at the "Priests' Home," 215 East Marshall Street. He had been ill for three months from complications of disease, brought on by a fall he sustained a year ago, when he fractured a rib.

Father Edward came to Richmond thirteen years ago, succeeding Father William Steyer, also a native of St. Mary's, Pa., and was educated at St. Vincent's College, in Pennsylvania, and Belmont College, North Carolina. Before coming here he was pastor of a church at Newbern, N. C.

John Chambers Norris. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] John Chambers Norris, one of the prominent citizens of Lancaster County, died on Friday at his home in Merry Point, after a prolonged illness, aged eighty years. Although a native of Lancaster County, he had made his home in Baltimore since early in life, until about ten years ago, when he returned to his old home. He is survived by one son, John Norris, of Baltimore, and Mrs. Cooper, of Baltimore County, Md. His remains are interred in Baltimore by those of his wife, who preceded him by many years.

Patrick Carriek Waring. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Frederickburg, Va., June 6.—Patrick Carriek Waring, a prominent citizen of Essex County, died last evening at his home on the Rappahannock River, at the age of seventy-nine years. He formerly resided in this city, later moved to Essex, and had represented his county in the State Legislature. His wife, who survives him, was before his marriage, Miss Nannie Howson, daughter of the late John W. Howson, of Brunswick, near this city. Mr. Waring was a Confederate soldier, a member of the Ninth Virginia Cavalry, and was of the best character. He was a member of the Episcopal Church. Besides his widow, he is survived by five children.

Charles Perdue. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Lynchburg, Va., June 6.—Charles Perdue, a well-known farmer, died on Friday at his home near Concord, Campbell County. He was fifty-nine years old and had long been ill. His surviving children are Arthur Perdue, Mrs. Walter Williams, Mrs. Clements of Lynchburg; Misses Pettie, Ruby, Ida and Maggie Perdue, Charles E. and H. C. Perdue, of Appomattox County.

James E. Bryant. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Fredericksburg, Va., June 6.—James E. Bryant, of Stafford County, died today at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Judson Lewis, in that county, aged seventy years. He was a Confederate veteran, serving in the Fortieth Virginia Regiment, and is survived by his wife and five children.

furthermore, the court did not know "where he was at."

Justice Crutchfield was cornered only for a moment, announcing that whatever might be the facts as to the guilt or innocence of the accused, there was no doubt that their attorneys, Mr. Wise, had been a distributor of the peace for more years than he could recall. Both men were admitted to bail, each posted so vehemently that the other was to blame, and seemed so aggrieved over the affair that many on board were not certain but that there was some difficulty which the club committee had attempted to gloss over.

Just as the boat was making the landing at Varina there was a cry of "man overboard," and the report spread like wildfire that the altercation had been renewed, and that President Smith had thrown Hester bodily from the boat. Hester was seen swimming in the water, with a bloody looking smear of pole lodged across one eye, and with every stroke he intelligently shouted his defiance to Smith. Almost before Hester had been successfully and most spectacularly rescued, newsmen appeared on the dock with cameras, giving every detail of the affair, even the pictures of the terrible swordfish that attacked Hester in the water. Both men carried their parts for hours with remarkable ability.

FIELD SPORTS ARE HELD

AT VARINA FARM

Box lunches were handed out on landing, and under a grove of old trees on the Varina lawn, Brunswick stew was served to more than 500 people on the trip. Later Mr. Snyder invited those interested in the historic and house, and many strolled themselves of his hospitality. A baseball game, with all manner of contests, egg races, sack races, tug of war, climbing greasy poles, ladder fight, pie-eating contests, and many other games, were held, and a variety of other events kept the crowd busy through a brilliant afternoon.

Joe Kennedy, whose band has led Richmond business men on boaters trips through several States, kept up the music on the way home, and it was door, through which the men entered. On account of the brilliant lighting, both within and without the store, they evidently had little opportunity to get about, and in their hurry overlooked a package containing diamonds valued at $15,000, although other jewelry amounting to $2,000 was stolen.

Investigation disclosed the fact that a man giving his name as James Kelly, of Baltimore, had occupied the room at Murphy's which was used by the burglars to effect the entry to the Hub. He arrived on Friday, and asked particularly to be assigned to Room 101, which he said he had used before. It was vacated by him shortly before 6 o'clock yesterday morning, in time for him to join his partners and escape by an early train. He had with him two suitcases when he paid his bill, and asked that the room be left undisturbed until later in the day, as he had not removed all of his clothing.

Kelly is described as about five feet ten inches in height, and apparently twenty-five years of age. Another man, about his age and size, was seen with him at intervals on Friday, and is believed to have been a second member of the gang. The third is thought to have been the lookout man.

BE IN BALTIMORE

Captain McMahon notified the police of Washington and Baltimore, but as the robbers were not reported before 8:30 o'clock, and it took some little time for the detectives to get any tangible clues, the telegrams reached Washington too late to head off the quarry. The Washington police learned, however, that three men, all of whom had new suitcases, were on their way to Baltimore, but the train had reached its destination before the authorities of that city were alerted. A city-wide search was instituted, and it is expected that the men will be located.

The robbery at the Hub was discovered by the police.

a singing and thoroughly satisfied company that reached the Richmond dock at 7 o'clock. The entertainment committee, headed by J. T. Palamary, and the officials of the club, were generally congratulated on the success of the day.

SURRENDERS TO PRIEST

Mad Murderer Gives In After Killing Two and Wounding Nineteen.

Budapest, June 6.—After repulsing with heavy losses a large force of police who endeavored several times to take him, August Tomies, a mad murderer, who took refuge in the tower of the village church at Hoddany this afternoon, surrendered to the village priest. He killed two policemen and wounded nineteen others.

Tomies took refuge in the tower of the church after he had killed a farmer and his wife and wounded the daughter. He was armed with a repeating rifle and 500 cartridges, and easily repulsed the police, who, in their efforts to get to him, had to use a narrow staircase, which was the only entrance to the tower.

Tomies killed two policemen and wounded fourteen yesterday. To-day five others were wounded. Then the village priest stepped into the breach. Within a few minutes Tomies agreed to surrender.

where your little heart and hands would control everything."

Over the objection of counsel for the defendant a letter was introduced in which Rapp advised Mrs. Dean to write a forcible letter to Madame Schumann-Helfft and to threaten her with a suit for damages if the diva coupled Mrs. Dean's name with that of Mr. Rapp.

In the letter Rapp gave an outline of the letter which he wished to have written.

A letter couched in similar language and received by the singer from Mrs. Dean later was introduced.

Part of today's session was devoted to reading more depositions by New York witnesses that Rapp was often at the apartments occupied by Mrs. Catherine E. Dean.

Mrs. Elizabeth Hawk, in her deposition, said she had often seen Mr. Rapp at the Dean apartment, and Lillian Schmidt, daughter of the Dean apartment owner, told of being hired by Mark Harrison, an actor, to take Photo.

The girl testified she saw Rapp at the Dean apartment wearing an apron and fixing the stove. She declared Mrs. Dean asked him to buy some meat, and called him "honey."

"Once," the girl's deposition ran, "Mrs. Dean showed me a letter from Mr. Rapp. She kissed the letter, and I pretended I did not see it. She let me read the letter. I don't remember what it said, but it ended, 'Your faithful Billie.'"

Mrs. Annie Schmidt, mother of Lillian, in a deposition, said she knew Rapp, and often had seen him about Mrs. Dean's place. She told of seeing him leave early each morning in February, 1913.

"He waved to somebody at the kitchen window every morning," said Mrs. Schmidt.

ered by W. B. Wetfield, secretary and treasurer of the company, and Detective-Sergeants Wiley and Atkinson were put on the case. Within a few minutes it was learned that the Schwarzschild store had been entered. A burglary was discovered by Clarence Woodson, who telephoned to W. H. Schwarzschild, head of the firm who brought the matter to the attention of the police. Detective-Sergeants Bailey, Withshire and Kellum were put to work, but nothing which would lead to the arrest of the robbers was unearthed, except the information from Murphy's.

The trace and bit, which was used in both jobs, was abandoned at Schwarzschild's, but it bore no marks by which its owner could be identified. A finger print, made by a greasy hand, was found on a glass show case, and will be photographed as evidence in case arrests are made.

A number of small burglaries recently have been reported to the police, and in at least two other instances the entrance was made with a trace and bit, leading the police to believe that the men have been here for some days laying plans and preparing for a big haul.

EARL OF PEMBROKE TO SELL PART OF LIBRARY

London, June 6.—The sale of part of the Duke of Devonshire's library at Chatsworth is followed by the news that the Earl of Pembroke intends to sell a selected portion of his library at Wilton House.

The earl has instructed Messrs. Sothby to catalogue it for June 25 and 26, reserving the right, however, to dispose of it by private arrangement in the meantime.

The library includes the rare "Book of St. Albans," by Dame Juliana Berners, and a copy of "Catholicon," of Johannes Balbus, dated 1450. There are also eight Caxtons and Hoethius's "De Consolatione Philosophiae."

It is believed many of these treasures, after lying in Wilton House for nearly 200 years, will now be carried off to America.

WHEN SKIN BREAKS OUT OR ITCHES APPLY SULPHUR

SAYS AN OUNCE OF BOLD-SULPHUR CREAM WILL DRY ANY ECZEMA ERUPTION RIGHT UP

Sulphur, says a renowned dermatologist, just common bold-sulphur made into a thick cream, will soothe and heal the skin when irritated and broken out with Eczema or any form of eruption. The moment it is applied all itching ceases, and after two or three applications the Eczema disappears, leaving the skin clear and smooth.

He tells Eczema sufferers to get from any good pharmacy an ounce of bold-sulphur cream and apply it to the irritated parts the same as you would any cold cream. For many years common bold-sulphur has occupied a secure position in the practice of dermatology and cutaneous affections by reason of its parasite-destroying property. It is not only parasiticidal, but also antipruritic, antiseptic and remarkably conditions of the skin. While not always effecting a permanent cure, it never fails to instantly subdue the angry itching and irritation and heal the Eczema right up, and it is often years later before any eruption again appears on the skin.—Advertisement.
